

Catherine Engelbrecht <catherine@truethevote.org>

Fwd: FOIA Letters to Konnech's Customers

Eugene Yu <eyu@konnech.com>

Wed, Jun 2, 2021 at 5:04 AM

To: Catherine Engelbrecht <catherine@truethevote.org>

Hello Ms. Engelbrecht,

Thank you for your prompt response to my email asking for communication.

Konnech is one of small vendors in the election industry and is not in the business related to voting machine, ballot tabulation, online ballot delivery and many more sensitive election services.

Our Products are currently to manage the poll workers and asset in US. Therefore, we are surprised with your massive effort to launch your FOIA request to all of our customers, and to ask for information, which may be beyond the general interest.

You have indicated to arrange an onsite visit. However, the timing of an onsite visit is not right.

Based on what happened to other vendors, Konnech has retained Mr. David Fink (dfink@finkbressack.com) to represent us. Please kindly contact Mr. Fink's office to discuss any of your need, or arrange a meeting. Your understanding of our concerns will be appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Eugene Yu

Konnech Inc.

From: Catherine Engelbrecht

Sent: Friday, May 28, 2021 4:44 PM

To: Eugene Yu

Subject: Fwd: FOIA Letters to Konnech's Customers

Mr. Yu -

Thank you for your email.

True the Vote routinely submits open records requests to government agencies as part of our ongoing mission to broadly share information on election processes. As a leading election software service provider, Konnech is one of many companies we are interested in learning more about.

We welcome the opportunity to meet with you and discuss how the systems developed by Konnech help support critical infrastructure in American elections. Please let us know when your schedule will allow for a meeting and we can make arrangements to visit you onsite.

6/2/2021

True the Vote Mail - Fwd: FOIA Letters to Konnech's Customers

Best Regards -

Catherine Engelbrecht
True the Vote